Description

A beautifully overgrown Giri, located southwest of Filitheyo. The reef drops from 2 to 27 meters on all sides. It is usually calm and suitable for divers of all skill levels. There are small and larger overhangs and undercuts at all depths, as well as a beautiful and intact coral garden. Many sponges and anemones in every color can be found here—a paradise for macro enthusiasts. Everywhere you look, you'll see plenty of glassfish, cleaner stations, snails, crabs, crust anemones, scorpionfish, shrimp, and flatworms. In open water, there are large schools of fusiliers, snappers, and juvenile fish.
